Karen: Good morning, are you home?
me: yes
Karen: I was going to run get you another ski/allweather jacket since it's supposed to rain this weekend. Will text you if I find one and drop it by later, would that be okay?
me: I don't wear those sorts of jackets, really, but thanks Karen: You can't your long wool coat or your short wool coat in the rain.
me: I know, I don't, I wear the one you don't like Karen: That's not a rain jacket?
